ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Harmony got loose from our yard when she was let out to go potty first thing in the morning. We had not yet put her collar on her. She was spooked by something and bolted out of the yard, wriggling through our gate. We know she took off west down our street, but do not know from there, so she could have gone any direction after that. She is very skittish and scared of strangers. She does know her name and will respond to it. She also does like treats such as cheese and other people food as well as dog food, so it would probably be a good lure to get her to come to someone. If chased, she will only run farther and faster.
